1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Clare College is fully committed to the principle, and to the promotion, of freedom of speech.

1.2 This Code of Practice sets out the College’s commitment to freedom of speech, outlines the various legislative frameworks under which such freedoms must be upheld and may be circumscribed, and summarises the procedures used by the College to manage these issues.

2. SCOPE

2.1 This Code of Practice applies to:

2.1.1 all members, staff and students of the College; and

2.1.2 visiting speakers and all other persons invited or otherwise lawfully participating in College activities on College premises.

2.2 For the avoidance of doubt, this Code of Practice does not apply to purely commercial meetings or events on College premises.

2.3 References in this Code of Practice to “College premises” means those premises over which Clare College exercises control, whether indoor or outdoor.

2.4 The University of Cambridge and its associated Cambridge Students’ Union both have their own duty to secure freedom of speech within the law and have both issued their own Code of Practice on this topic.

2.5 The activities of the College student union(s) (UCS and MCR) are subject to this Code of Practice and adherence of these student union(s) to the Code is monitored by the College.

3. KEY CONCEPTS AND LEGISLATIVE FRAMEWORK

3.1 Freedom of speech means the freedom, within the law, to receive and impart ideas, opinions or information by means of speech, writing or images (including in electronic form) without interference.

3.2 Academic freedom, in relation to academic staff at the College, means their freedom within the law to question and test received wisdom, and to put forward new ideas and controversial or unpopular opinions, without loss of their jobs or privileges at the College, or the likelihood of their securing promotion or different jobs at the College being reduced.

3.3 These concepts are underpinned by the Human Rights Act 1998, which brings the European Convention on Human Rights into direct effect in national law. Article 10 of the Convention articulates freedom of expression as a human right and sets out the limited circumstances in which that right might be circumscribed (such as to protect public safety, for the prevention of disorder or crime, or for the protection of the reputation or rights of others). These concepts also exist within other UK legislation. Universities and similar institutions in England (including the College) have duties under the Higher Education and Research Act 2017 (as amended by the Higher Education (Freedom of Speech) Act 2023) to take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure and promote freedom of speech and academic freedom within the law for staff and students and for visiting speakers.

3.4 Section 26 of the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015 places a duty on certain bodies, including higher education institutions such as the College, in the exercise of their functions to have ‘due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism’. This necessitates the establishment of protocols and procedures by which to assess the risks associated with meetings or events that are University hosted, affiliated, funded, or branded. This Act also requires the College to have particular regard to its other duties with regard to academic freedom and freedom of speech. Debate, discussion, and critical enquiry are, in themselves, powerful tools in preventing people from being drawn into terrorism.

3.5 Under the Equality Act 2010, Fellows, staff and students must not be subjected to unlawful discrimination, harassment, intimidation or threats of violence on the grounds of race, sex, age, religion or philosophical belief, sexual orientation, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, or pregnancy or maternity. However, the provisions of the Equality Act 2010 are not to be interpreted to undermine freedom of speech and academic freedom. As a result, students’ learning experience and the working environment of Fellows and staff may include exposure to research, course material, discussion or speakers’ views that they find offensive, contentious or unacceptable, but are nonetheless within the law, and unlikely to be considered unlawful harassment or discrimination under the Equality Act 2010.

3.6 There are other legislative requirements that may be relevant in particular cases, such as offences under the Terrorism Acts if speech encourages terrorism, or amounts to the incitement of religious or racial hatred or hatred on the grounds of sexual orientation under the Public Order Acts, as well as statutory requirements relating to the holding of processions and assemblies. The College is not under any obligation to secure or promote freedom of speech that contravenes any legislative requirements.

4. VALUES

4.1 The College’s core values are ‘freedom of thought and expression’ and ‘freedom from discrimination’ and it encourages its staff, students and visitors to engage in robust, challenging, evidence-based and civil debate as a core part of academic enquiry and wider College activity, even if they find the viewpoints expressed to be disagreeable, unwelcome or distasteful. These values extend to the student unions of the College. The steps the College takes to embed its values in practice are set out in section 5 below.

4.2 The College fosters an environment in which all of its Fellows, staff and students can participate fully in College life, and feel able to question and test received wisdom, and to express new ideas and controversial or unpopular opinions within the law, without fear of intolerance or discrimination. In exercising their right to freedom of speech, the College expects its Fellows, staff, students and visitors to be tolerant of the differing opinions of others, in line with the College’s core value of freedom of expression. The College also expects its Fellows, staff, students and visitors to be tolerant of the diverse identities of others, in line with the College’s core value of freedom from discrimination. While debate and discussion may be robust and challenging, all speakers have a right to be heard when exercising their right to free speech within the law. Neither speakers nor listeners should have reasonable grounds to feel censored or intimidated.

4.3 The College will ensure that Fellows and staff are able to exercise freedom of thought and expression within the law without placing themselves at risk of losing their job, Fellowship or other supernumerary position, or any College privileges and benefits they have or affecting the likelihood of their securing other jobs or roles in the College. The College expects all Fellows, staff and students to engage with intellectual and ideological challenges in a constructive, questioning and peaceable way. The right of Fellows, staff and students to freedom of assembly, and to protest against certain viewpoints, should not obstruct the ability of others to exercise their lawful freedom of speech.

5. STEPS THE COLLEGE TAKES TO ENSURE FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND ACADEMIC FREEDOM

5.1 The College will ensure that its teaching, curriculum, programmes of events (both of the College and its student union), policies and procedures reflect its duties to ensure, so far as is reasonably practicable, freedom of speech and academic freedom within the law and the very high level of protection for the lawful expression of viewpoints and for speech in an academic context, including but not limited to:

a) its processes for programme development and approval, quality assurance and academic assessment;
b) its processes for admission, appointment, reappointment and promotion;
c) its policies relating to equality, diversity and inclusion (including the public sector equality duty) and the Prevent duty;
d) its processes for facilitating research; and
e) its codes of conduct and other behaviour policies, which will ensure no individual will be subjected to disciplinary sanction or other less favourable treatment by or on behalf of the University because of the lawful exercise of freedom of speech or academic freedom.

5.2 The College does not enter into non-disclosure agreements related to complaints about sexual misconduct, bullying or harassment.

5.3 The College has processes in place to identify and manage any risks to freedom of speech or academic freedom arising from the terms of certain overseas funding, including funding from endowments, gifts, donations, research grants and contracts, and educational or commercial partnerships.

5.4 The College shall:

5.4.1 ensure that this Code of Practice is brought to the attention of new students at registration and new Fellows and staff during induction;
5.4.2 draw the attention of Fellows, students and staff to this Code of Practice annually, and ensure that it is referred to in other University documentation as appropriate;
5.4.3 ensure that all relevant Fellows and staff are aware of and/or receive appropriate training on freedom of speech and academic freedom;
5.4.4 ensure that all relevant decision-makers, in making any decision or adopting any policy that could directly or indirectly (and positively or negatively) affect freedom of speech, act compatibly with the College’s free speech duties as they apply in the relevant circumstances;
5.4.5 periodically seek feedback from Fellows, staff, students and other stakeholders to secure their views on whether freedom of speech and academic freedom at the College are being adequately protected and take the responses into account;
5.4.6 ensure that there are adequate measures in place to raise concerns about freedom of speech and academic freedom;
5.4.7 ensure that when new policies and procedures are introduced consideration is given to their impact on freedom of speech and academic freedom;
5.4.8 ensure that it has appropriate processes for the holding of events and meetings as set out in section 6 below;
5.4.9 monitor any concerns that have been raised about freedom of speech and academic freedom to ensure that they are addressed so far as is reasonably practicable and to address any lessons learned and draw the attention of complainants to its processes for investigating complaints and the OfS complaint scheme as set out in section 7; and
5.4.10 take steps to secure compliance with this Code of Practice, including where appropriate taking disciplinary action.

6. COLLEGE AND STUDENT UNION EVENTS AND MEETINGS – PROCEDURES AND CONDUCT OF ATTENDEES

6.1 Active speaker programmes are fundamental to the academic and other activities of the College and Fellows, staff and students are encouraged to invite a wide range of speakers and to engage critically but courteously with them, including as set out at paragraph 6.6 of this Code. This Code of Practice provides the only mechanism by which the College can cancel or impose conditions on College and student union meetings or events where this action is deemed necessary as a result of the event’s subject matter and/or speaker(s). This is to ensure that the use of College premises is not inappropriately denied to any individual or body of persons on any ground connected with their beliefs or views or the policy or objectives of a body (with the exception of proscribed groups or organisations) of which they are a member. However, all speakers should anticipate that their views might be subject to robust debate, critique and challenge.

6.2 The starting point should always be that the event should go ahead and that cancellation is exceptional and undesirable. Depending on the circumstances, it may however be reasonable to refuse permission for a College meeting or event where the College reasonably believes (from the nature of the speakers or from similar activities in the past whether held at the College or otherwise) that:

6.2.1 the views likely to be expressed by any speaker are contrary to the law;
6.2.2 the speaker is likely to incite breaches of the law or to intend breaches of the peace to occur;
6.2.3 the meeting will not permit contrary or opposing viewpoints to be held or expressed;
6.2.4 the speaker and/or the organisation they represent advocates or engages in violence in the furtherance of their political, religious, philosophical or other beliefs;
6.2.5 the views likely to be expressed by any speaker are for the promotion of any illegal organisation or purpose, including organisations listed on the government’s list of proscribed terrorist groups or organisations; or
6.2.6 it is in the interest of public safety, the prevention of disorder or crime, the proper functioning of the College or the protection of those persons lawfully on University premises, that the meeting does not take place.

6.3 The lawful expression of controversial or unpopular views will not in itself constitute reasonable grounds for withholding permission for a College or student union meeting or event.

6.4 Where the College is reasonably satisfied that the otherwise lawful expression of views at an event or meeting on College premises is likely to give rise to disorder or threats to the safety of participants or the wider College community, the College shall consider what steps it is necessary to take to ensure the safety of all persons and the security of College premises. These may include, but are not limited to: requirements as to the provision of security/stewards, the speaker being part of a panel, ensuring that a member of staff is in attendance, or that the event or meeting should take place in alternative premises, at a later date, or in a different format. The College may impose such conditions and requirements upon the organisers as are reasonably necessary in all the circumstances, ensuring that the conditions and requirements go no further than is necessary to address the risks it has identified. The College will only pass on the costs of security for using the premises to those arranging the relevant event or meeting in exceptional circumstances, such as where the costs are wholly disproportionate to the numbers likely to be attending the event and the event could be held in a more proportionate way, or where the visiting speaker could reasonably be expected to have their own security because of the political or state office they hold. Any request to a meeting or event organiser to pay security costs in exceptional circumstances will be in writing and will explain those costs and any appeal mechanism. Any request to pay security costs will not be influenced to any degree by the ideas or opinions of any individual involved in organising the event or meeting, or by the policy or objectives of, or the views of any of the members of, any body involved in organising the event or meeting.

6.5 These narrow exceptions to the general principle of freedom of speech are not intended ever to apply in a way that is inconsistent with the College’s commitment to the completely free and open discussion of ideas.

6.6 Those attending events and meetings at the College are expected to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with the following principles:

6.6.1 everyone has the right to free speech within the law.
6.6.2 the aim of events at the College is to expose Fellows, staff and students to the widest possible range of views, within the law.
6.6.3 Protest is itself a legitimate expression of freedom of speech but protesters should recognise the rights of others participating in the event or meeting, and in particular not violate the rights of others to speak during the event. Protest must not shut down debate.

6.7 Where any person or body to whom this Code of Practice applies is seeking to hold a College or student union event or meeting on College premises which is outside of the normal academic curriculum the processes in the Annex shall be followed, except where the event or meeting is purely commercial.

7. BREACHES AND COMPLAINTS

7.1 Where the College receives a concern about the exercise of academic freedom or freedom of speech or where it has received a concern about a possible infringement or departure(s) from the values and procedures set out in this Code of Practice, it will consider which of its procedures are most appropriate to consider the concern, making such enquiries and seeking such information as it considers necessary. Such consideration may lead to further investigation in accordance with the College’s disciplinary procedures, or the College’s grievance or complaints procedures.

7.2 The Office for Students (OfS) operates a free speech complaints scheme. Under that scheme, the OfS can review complaints about free speech from members, students, staff, applicants for academic posts and (actual or invited) visiting speakers. Information about the complaints that the OfS can review is available on its website. [LINK – to be supplied].

8. MONITORING AND REVIEW

8.1 The College Council will periodically review the contents and operation of this Code of Practice and report on its operation.

8.2 The point of contact for any query about this Code of Practice and its Annex is the Senior Tutor (seniortutor@clare.cam.ac.uk).

Approved by Governing Body on 10 June 2024
Annex: The use of College premises for College members and visiting speakers

A1. This Annex is issued under paragraph 6.7 of the College’s Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech, which reads: “Where any person or body to whom this Code of Practice applies is seeking to hold a College event or meeting on College premises which is outside of the normal academic curriculum the processes in the Annex shall be followed, except where the event or meeting is purely commercial.”

Context

A2. The College is required by law to have a Policy on the Use of College Premises (hereafter the ‘Policy’). This Policy must be consistent with the College’s legal responsibilities, including under Section 43 of the Education (No 2) Act 1986, the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015, and the Higher Education (Freedom of Speech) Act 2023. The last imposes a duty on the College to secure freedom of speech within the law for staff, members, students and visiting speakers.

Principles

A3. The College is strongly committed to the principle of freedom of speech and expression. A full statement of principles may be found in the Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech.
A4. In devising this Policy, the College has taken into account its statutory duties, including the management of the health and safety of its members and the general public, and its duty in preventing people being drawn into terrorism or the promotion of terrorist activities.
A5. In accordance with the Higher Education (Freedom of Speech) Act 2023, the Policy secures that the use of College premises is not denied to any individual or body on grounds of an individual’s ideas or opinions or a body’s policy or objectives (or the opinions of any of its members).
A6. The Policy further secures that, apart from in exceptional circumstances, use of College premises by any individual or body is not on terms that require the individual or body to bear some or all of the costs of security relating to their use of the premises.
A7. These provisions do not apply automatically to external parties or bodies who request the use of College premises for an event not directly associated with the College’s academic pursuits.
A8. The Higher Education (Freedom of Speech) Act 2023 is intended to guarantee freedom of speech within the law; the College therefore reserves the right to deny the use of its premises to any individual or body that does not comply with the law.
A9. In this Policy, ‘events’ include any meeting or gathering held on College-owned premises, or organised by members of the College (in their capacity as members of the College) and held elsewhere, which do not form part of an agreed course or programme of study.

Protocols and Procedures

Booking of events and appeals process

A10. All rooms and meeting places of the College have a ‘designated owner’, as outlined at Room Bookings - Clare College Cambridge. In all cases, nominated members of staff have the responsibility to ensure that the rooms and meeting places are used appropriately and consistently with the College’s statutory obligations, and may specify in writing particular terms and conditions relating to the use of that room or meeting place. This may include specific terms and conditions relating to that particular event, if appropriate.
A11. No event can take place in a room or meeting place without prior approval by the designated owner. Approval is made through the consideration of information provided by the event organiser (who must be a specific person, acting on their own behalf or on behalf of an organisation) through mechanisms approved by the designated owner (see Bookings Function document).
A12. Requests for events must be provided in writing by the event organiser, ideally 2 weeks in advance of the event. The organiser must take into account any lead time required to publicise the event and an event must not be publicised before approval has been granted. The College reserves the right to refuse outright any request for the use of a room or meeting place if such a request is made within 1 week of the proposed event.

A13. The deliberate provision of false or incomplete information by the event organiser will be addressed under the disciplinary procedures of the College, if appropriate.

A14. The designated owner may refuse permission for the event to take place if they have not been provided with sufficient information by the event organiser, or if they conclude that there is the likelihood of risks to health and safety or a breach of the law.

A15. If an event or room booking is refused for a College member, a written appeal may be made to the Bursar or Senior Tutor. Alternatively, a complaint can be lodged with the Office for Students. In both cases, the Bursar or Senior Tutor will send confirmation of the appeal upon receipt to the College and will communicate the outcome of this within an appropriate timeframe, bearing in mind the intended date of the event. Please note that this will usually be at least 14 days.

A16. If an event or room booking is refused for a visiting speaker, a written appeal may be made to the Master. Alternatively, a complaint can be lodged with the Office for Students. In both cases, the Bursar or Senior Tutor will send confirmation of the appeal upon receipt to the College and will communicate the outcome of this within an appropriate timeframe, bearing in mind the intended date of the event. Please note that this will usually be at least 14 days.

Expected conduct of members of the College

A17. The College is a working and learning environment and recognises that the contribution of its members will be most effective in conditions which are free of discrimination. Members are likely to flourish in an environment which respects the rights of individuals in accordance with the law.

A18. The College therefore expects members to act appropriately at events, whether or not they are organised by the College, and at meetings or gatherings held outside the Collegiate University. Any concerns or complaints about the behaviour or conduct of a member of College at any event, gathering or meeting will be addressed under the procedures outlined in College Statutes, Ordinances or Regulations. This may include addressing those concerns through the College’s disciplinary procedures.

A19. Attention is also drawn to the terms and conditions of use of the University’s and College’s information technology (IT) services: this provides guidance on the use of facilities (including browsers and servers) for study and personal use, and outlines what the University considers inappropriate use. Any breach of the IT rules will also be addressed through the appropriate disciplinary procedures.

A20. If any action breaks the law, the College will assist the police, security services and/or any prosecuting authorities to implement the processes of law.

Management of incidents relating to events

A21. In the interests of transparency and to ensure the safe management of an event, the College reserves the right to nominate one or more senior members, or members of staff acting on the College’s behalf, to attend an event.

A22. The named organiser of the event has a duty to see that nothing in the preparations for or conduct of the event breaks the law, e.g. conduct likely to cause a breach of the peace or incitement to illegal acts. The named organiser is required to liaise with the authorities outlined below in the event of an incident relating to the event.

A23. If an incident takes place, staff responsible for the security of the College will attend the scene to oversee any actions that need to be taken, including the mobilisation of the police or other emergency services. Emergency contact details will be provided to the named organiser of the event. All incidents must be reported to the senior officers of the College.
